

Chapter 2

Laws in Operation : Chronological Order

2. An Overview of the Chapter

This first substantive chapter of this Compendium lists in detail the laws in force, according to chronological order i.e., year by year.¹ The oldest law in operation i.e., in force, as will be evident below dates back to 1799. Thus, a chronological inventory of the laws between 1799 to 2002² has been presented in this chapter. Laws in this chapter include Regulations,³ Acts, Ordinances and Presidential Orders. Subject to actual enactment and being in operation all or any one or more than one among the four categories of laws just spelled out, are to be found under yearly sub-headings below. The footnotes to the laws indicate the amendments that have taken place.⁴ These amendments have also been chronologically arranged.

Laws can be arranged in different ordering modes and, as indicated in Chapter 1, this Compendium catalogues all the laws in force in three primary orders: chronological, alphabetical and under different subject matter. Such presentations of our laws are designed to facilitate location of laws with the help of any one of the three categories, i.e., year of the enactment, first letter of the enactment and subject matter of the enactment. This chapter,

¹ To access the laws according to alphabetical order, please consult Chapter 3 of this Compendium. For 'parent laws' and laws according to subject matter, please see, Volume II, Chapters 4 and 5 respectively. For the laws that are not in force, please consult Volume IV, Chapters 10 to 13. For the Rules, Regulations and other bye laws, please see, Volume III, Chapters 6 to 9 of this Compendium.

² As of 1 June 2002.

³ Bengal Regulations, Regulations made under the Government of India Act, 1870 and 1935. These Regulations are equivalent to the Acts of Parliament. Thus, these Regulations are not bye-laws i.e., delegated legislation. For Regulations as bye-laws, see, Volume III, Chapter 8 of this Compendium.

⁴ For other information, see footnotes to the laws outlined in Chapters 3 and 4 of this Compendium.
