

Chapter 6

Rules in Operation : Chronological Order

6. An Overview of the Chapter

In this chapter, Rules framed under various laws have been presented in chronological order.¹ The footnotes to various laws, specified in Chapters 3 and 4 of this Compendium² indicate the Rules making power of the government, if any under specific legislation. The President, in addition, has the power to frame Rules according to proviso to Article 133³ of the Constitution of the People's Republic of Bangladesh. This chapter attempts to catalogue the Rules so framed.⁴

There are some instances, as will be evident below, that the laws have been repealed⁵ but the Rules framed under those laws have been saved by the repealing legislation. In such a situation, apart from indicating the source of Rule framing authority, the Rules 'savings' authority have also been indicated. Amendments of the Rules have also been included in the footnotes which may not be exhaustive.

Rules in this chapter have been presented purely on the basis of their availability in the libraries and book shops. It needs to be pointed that unlike earlier efforts to codify and consolidate laws by publishing collective volumes by various governments such as the Unrepealed Central Acts, Pakistan Code, Bangladesh Code, etc. No official effort has so far been undertaken to collect and publish Rules in any systematic manner in Bangladesh. Also the authors did not find a depository of any kind, in the Ministries concerned for tracing the Rules. Hence, the authors had to look for and collect Rules from diverse sources and, therefore such an attempt can not guarantee a complete result. Thus, the list of Rules presented in this chapter may not be exhaustive.

With the increasing practice of regulating various activities through Rules, as well as Rules making power conferred on various governmental authorities by parent laws,⁶ it is imperative that the government devises and implements a system for preservation of and access to these Rules. The total number Rules which the authors have been able to trace and present in this chapter stands at nine hundred and twenty (920).

6.2. Pre-independence Rules on Local Government in Chronological Order

In this part various Rules framed under the Basic Democracies Order, 1959 (P.O. No. 18 of 1959) and the Municipal Administration Ordinance, 1960 (Ordinance No. X of 1960) have been presented. Both the laws have been repealed.¹⁶¹ The various legislation which repealed them have however, saved the Rules framed under them.¹⁶² Subject to consistency with the new legislation, until altered, repealed or amended, these Rules are to be deemed to have been framed under the laws which repealed them. The following Rules are therefore, being presented on the assumption that they may still have the force of law in some parts of Bangladesh due to the 'savings clauses' of the various legislation on local government which are in force in Bangladesh.¹⁶³

Rules in Operation : Alphabetical Order

7. An Overview of the Chapter

This Chapter presents the Rules in operation¹ framed under various laws² according to alphabetical order. Rules in our country are drafted either in English or Bangla. In more recent years it's mostly being framed in Bangla. There is no coherent order for framing Rules. In some instances Rules have been framed within a year or two after the enactment of the parent law,³ whereas in other instances decades have elapsed before a Rule has been framed.
